Thanks to the good offices of Loyal Gould, director of Baylor University Journalism, a little bit of Herald technology went before four classes at mid-week.

Next week it is SMU, Dallas.

116-116-116

I'd like to meet some of those "friends" who "know" so much about me. Chances are Jealousy is their middle name.

116-116-116

I learned by phone that a 30-piece string orchestra from Killgore High School is playing at Yoe High School Friday.

Charles Lewis, editor of the Kilgore News-Herald, called to ask us to take some pictures of the group for publication there. Mike Peck does Herald feature photography.

Charles is newly returned from California where he ran a public relations firm for several years, following editorships of a couple of dailies in the San Francisco Bay area.

He had been city editor of a tri-weekly in Grand Prairie opposite a semi-weekly I published about a year.

He is giving Cameron a plug by asking for photos of their orchestra performance here.

It would be in line after two Dallas Symphony appearances and prior to that two appearances of a Central Texas Symphony the fifth appearance of a symphonic group in seven or eight years.

I happen to like most symphonic music, so I'm sure there is something wrong with me. If it's a disease, I hope it's contagious.

Anyway I found out about this student orchestra from a friend.

I hope Cameron students like them.

Richard Crowe, president of the Buckholts State Bank, was elected mayor and councilmen are A. W. Zajicek Jr., and W. L. Williams. Crowe said the law calls for two councilmen and more can be elected later.

In an interview with The Herald, the new mayor expressed satisfaction with the vote and listed priorities for the new town, including a sewer system, improved equipment for the fire department, paving of streets, and a general "Facelifting." The city already has a good water system.

Crowe said the city will be eligible for revenue sharing funds and a number of other governmental assistance programs. It will enlist the aid of the Central Texas Council of Governments and the Texas Municipal League.

Mayor Crowe said the city government hopes to operate a basic city government without taxes, at least at first. He said one of the greatest needs of the city now is for a sewer system.

"We hope we can operate the basic functions of a city on a volunteer basis as has been done in the past," Crowe said, "with citizens giving of their time to carry out the functions."

"Our main effort will be to improve the little town we've got," he concluded.

Motorcycle Mishaps

Two motorcycle riders were taken to a local hospital Sunday morning after being injured in trial runs at the Central Texas Moto-Cross track.

Alcoa Awards Grant To S&W

The Alcoa Foundation has awarded Scott and White Hospital in Temple a $50,000 grant for use in its 10-year, $25 million expansion and modernization project, according to Fred P. Bergeon, Alcoa's Texas area manager, of Rockdale.

This grant--payable over a three year period--brings the Alcoa Foundation's donations to area hospitals over the past four years to more than $200,000, including $112,000 and 12 acres of land to the recently opened Richards Memorial Hospital in Rockdale.

Other grants have gone to John's Memorial Hospital in Taylor ($20,000) and St. Edward's Hospital in Cameron ($25.000).

"Scott and White's expansion program is a very worthy one and Alcoa Foundation money couldn't go to a more deserving organization," Bergeron said.

Hospital Installs New Heart Monitor System

On April 1, St. Edward Hospital-Rischar Memorial installed over $12,000 worth of cardiac monitoring equipment. The hospital's Ladies Auxiliary generously donated $3,5000 helping to make the purchase possible, announced Sister M. Jeanette, hospital administrator.

The purpose of obtaining this equipment is to establish and maintain a specially designed, equipped and staffed unit in which patients having or suspected of having, myocardial infarctions (heart attacks) as well as other forms of heart disease such as rhythm and condiction disturbances, may recieve constant, twenty-four hour electronic monitoring with medical and nursing observation.

Recently, all professional personnell at St. Edward Hospital completed a sixty hour course and are specially prepared and certified in cardiovascular nursing.

"One expects to see such sophisticated equipment and prepared personnell only in the large medical center, but we believe that such high quality care can be rendered even more effectively in the smaller institution," stated SisterM. Benedicta, director of nursing.

The hospital staff is pleased to be able to provide this high caliber of health care to the people of Cameron.

Whims Of Change...

Reuters notes an American Freedom Train is traversing the continental U.S. for the next two years, bearing some artifacts and trivia of this country's 200 years.

Everything from constitutional documents and John F. Kennedy's hand-written draft of his inaugural speech and memorabilia even to include a pair of Amelia Earhart's goggles will fill 12 of 22 railcars.

The train will be able to handle 2,000 visitors an hour in metropolitan areas, anticipating perhaps 10 million people going through it by the end of 1976.

One city council was stirred, upon learning some of the contents, to ask the train not to stop because some of the content was "patently ridiculous." It was the council of Milwaukee, Wisc.

Patriotism is not what it used to be, but the City of Washington attracts millions of tourists a year to see similar stuff in museums, government buildings and galleries in the District area. The Smithsonian is filled with these things and the Archives and Library of Congress house original Constitution and Bill of Rights, among other historic documentation of the nation's founding.

It will be interesting to see how an American of suburbs and central cities takes to this rather old-fashioned means of bringing Americana to the people.

Railroads aren't the popular means of travel either.

So much has changed since the nation's founding, it is difficult to say what would convince us patriotism is more than a 10-letter word. There are thousands of 10-letter words.

The nation is looking for strengths, for roots in a space age when men float weightlessly in space capsules. Maybe a train of red, white, and blue cars can bring us a little closer to the values of colonial America, a splendid time in history, not only in nationalism here, but self-government everywhere.

It was a sophisticated beginning with a very simple approach: "Freedom or war."

We're not so sure those colonial heroes would themselve s trapse to a train station to see a lot of stuff symbolic of ideas and bloodshed beyond a lot of people these days.

Are Americans too sophisticated for their own reenlightenment? After all, it is still the only revolution enduring two centuries on this globe.

Maybe not, if they could imagine what it would mean today to declare our freedom from the rest of the 3.5 billions only hours away by jet. Like those incredible colonialists a couple of centuries ago, we would not be sure how to do it. But we would just do it.

Perhaps 2 million colonial Americans told the British to give way. France of course was cheering us on.

But so would China if we X'ed Russia, the Arabs, Southeast Asia by declaration. Or so would Russia if China were written off. Europe would cheer us on, in part, at least.

There is, however, no George III underestimating us. Only the obvious forces with nuclear armaments, barrelhead diplomacy, or vast numbers.

The Freedom Train will remind of a simpler day of enormous purpose and courage. The turnout in the next two years may give some indication of what commitment resides in the hearts of cosmopolites, suburbanites, and non-metro Americans winnowed by whims of change.

Congressional Record

DYE TO TRAP DIESEL FUEL TAX EVADERS

SENATOR CHARGES H. PERCY (Ill.) ". . .I call up amendment No. 198. . .The amendment requires that No. 1 and No. 2 heating fuel oil be colored with an oil soluble dye to deter tax fraud. . .

"Under existing law, diesel fuel is taxed at an average rate of 12 cents a gallon--4 cents by the Federal Government and an average of 8 cents by the States. An extensive black market has developed in which untaxes heating oil is used as diesel fuel, defrauding both the Federal Government and every State in the Union. A trucking trade publication, the Fleet Owner, estimates that this illegal practice is costing more than $1 billion a year in State and Federal taxes. That is a trucking publication that makes that estimate. As a result of this black market, heating oil becomes more scarce to those who are dependent on this type of fuel . . .I ask unanimous consent that an article by Bernie Swart. . .be printed in the Record. . ." (Excerpts follow):

Lost $100 Million in Diesel Fuel Taxes

This figure may go as high as $1 billion a year, according to Albert T. Stoessel, an Iowa oil dealer and pastpresident of the Iowa Petroleum Association. Stoessel estimates his State alone is losing more than $50 million a year in fuel taxes.

The taxes are lost according to Stoessel, when Number two heating oil is substituted for diesel fuel. The two fuels are almost identical in chemical composition, Stoessel said, although diesel fuel is heavily taxed while home heating fuel is not. Stoessel told the Iowa Petroleum Concil that one major refinery "told its dealers to stop selling fuel oil to truckers for use as diesel fuel.

Don Briggs, Iowa director fo revenues, says his department is conducting a three-year auditing program of trucking operations in the State.

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Diesel fuel tax evaders shift the tax uurden to the law abiding truckers.

School Finance Reform Debate Shaping Up

—The great debate on school finance reform is shaping up in the House and Senate.

Major legislation to restructure education funding formulas has been heard before committees in both houses and is now being altered by sub-committees to meet revenue on hand and varying viewpoints of lawmakers and educators.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe's weighted pupil plan would cost an estimated $744 million in additional state revenue and $1.033 billion in local contributions.

The Texas State Teachers Association plan would require some $2.2 billion in additional state money and $520 million in local funds.

Dr. Richard Hooker, Briscoe's education consultant, acknowledges 550 districts would have to increase ad valorem taxes to meet their "fair share" of school program costs under the governor's plan (HB 1083 and SB 478).

However, Hooker notes, those districts contain only 14 per cent of the state's population, and he contends these districts have an option as to whether they will produce their "fair share."

TSTA Executive Secretary Callie Smith maintains HB 1083 would mandate minimum accreditation standards and teacher salaries, and 500 to 600 districts would have no choice but to increase taxes.

Rep. W. S. "Bill" Heatly of Paducah sent constituents in his district a detailed breakdown on how the Governor's bill would affect local taxes, and said he would oppose it.

Big county school officials generally supported the Briscoe bill at the Senate committee hearing, and claimed it should provide even more money per pupil.

Teachers jammed the Senate chamber in support of their bill—and a $10,000 a year starting pay scale.

TAX WARNINGS ISSUED

Comptroller Bob Bullock issued warnings that a record state tax bill ranging from $320 million to more than $2 billion seems inevitable for 1977 if lawmakers continue their spending ways.

House Speaker Bill Clayton urged his appropriations advisors to cut spending recommendations below Legislative Budget Board recommendations.

MERGER APPROVED

The Senate approved merger of the Texas Highway Department and Mass Transportation Commission into a new State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Senators temporarily balked, however, at taking nearly $100 million in auto sales tax revenues during the next two years for a Public Transportation Fund to help finance mass transit projects and planning.

PRIMARY BILL ADVANCED

A presidential preference primary bill won Senate approval — but as a one-time-only measure, to expire in March 1977.

The bill (HB 679)) went back to the House and into conference committee for certain revision.

COURTS SPEAK

The Third Court of Civil Appeals took under consideration (after hearing oral arguments) Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's appeal from an injunction blocking a $45 million long distance rate increase.

Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a murder conviction of a man who claimed a five-year-old boy left in his care died of an accidental head injury while doing "flips."

An Abilene man won a new trial on burglary charges because the trial judge refused to instruct jurors on possible probation.

AG OPINIONS

Atty. Gen. John Hill held the Texas Constitution permits a statute providing for abolition of county school superintendent's offices on a local option basis.

In the same opinion, Hill said a school superintendent may not resign his position and terminate the operation of his office.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

• A bill providing for cancellation of Texas Opportunity Plan Loans of students who work for certain state agencies after getting doctorate degrees in medicine or psychology is constitutional.

• Welfare Department files on child abuse investigations are not subject to disclosure under the Open Records Act.

• Information on teachers and their numbers of children in high and average high math and reading groups should be made public on demand.

• A state university's group insurance contract is also public record.

• A county auditor must be appointed for Kerr County.

• Kinney County must pay its justices of the peace at least $5,880 a year.

• A county court judge must appoint a court reporter on demand for cases appealable to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

APPOINTMENTS

Governor Briscoe appointed Dr. James Ray Hays of Bellaire to the State Board of Examiners of Psychologists.

Briscoe appointed to the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners Dr. Howell R. Gaddy Jr. of Georgetown and Mrs. Winnie O. Warhol of Marlin.

W. C. Ligon of Portland was appointed branch pilot

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

According to several columnists I've read recently, the United States' failure to spend more millions in Viet Nam is going to destroy our credibility throughout the world. "If we let them down, the rest of the world will have doubts about our keeping our word," they said.

While I don't think we let the South Vietnamese down --it looks more like they let themselves down and if anybody promised them eternal aid, it wasn't me and you--what interested me was the columnists' agrument about credibility. That is, about nations' credibility, not columnists', which generally is in limited supply. I'd say the credibility of most of us columnists would dress out at about 10 or 15 percent.

But about nations, what'e credibility got to do with anything? Except maybe add to the paper shortage with all ~~he~~ agreements they've signed and torn up. I mean, what's the credibility rating of all the major and minor countries of the world we loaned money and material to during the First and Second World Wars, all of whom solemnly promised to pay us back and only one or two have? Instead of our worrying about their losing confidence in us, it looks like they ought to be worrying abot our losing it in them.

Credibility seems to be one of the least needed ingredients among nations. What's the word of the Soviet Union worth, if the dictator changes his mind? What's China's? Or Cuba's? Or Spain's? Or Portugal's? Or Turkey's? Or any other nations', whose names I'd list if I could think of them.

Actually, a country's word is no better than the politicians in power make it, and politicians change their mind from month to month, and very few of them are women.

Did you ever see a politician raise taxes, didn't raise them when he got in and found out how much money it takes to operate on?

If the indebted-to-us world wants to get mad at the U.S. for not spending more than 150 billion dollars and 50,000 American lives in Viet Nam, I figure it's like the man who, over drawn at the bank, gets mad at the bank.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

SINGAPORE

The half a million primitive hill tribesmen in the central highlands of South Vietnam will view with indifference or relief the current mass exodus of Vietnamese abandoning the mountains for the coast. The tribesmen, known generally by the French name Montagnards and called savages by the Vietnamese, regard the Vietnameses as intruders and were at best doubtful allies when the Americans left the country.

TOKYO

Tokyo is winning its battle to reduce air pollution. Last year the skies of the Japanese capital were clearer, if not cleaner, than they had been for a quarter of a century. But city authorities say it will take at least another five years to meet all the strict clean air standards they have laid down to protect the health of Tokyo's 11.6 million inhabitants.

LONDON

One of the most extensive recording projects of recent years is devoted not, as might have been expected, to the latest pop stars but to the often ignored giants of the swing era of jazz. The sessions, which have already produced 12 long-playing records with at least eight more expected to follow, came about as a result of a visit by Albert McCarthy, a free-lance British broadcaster to the Newport Jazz Festival in New York in 1972.

GARY, INDIANA

The slogan of this smoky steel town on the shore of Lake Michigan is "City on the move." Cynics stick posters on their cars adding this epitaph: "Will the last person leaving Gary please turn out the lights." A 13-story hotel, round which city planners hoped to redevelop the city center, closed recently. Two department stores and numerous small stores and offices have moved out of the area.

Bugs, Cold Plague Grain

By Bill McCutchen

The grain sorghum crop has been plagued with winter temperatures since planting and in addition to set backs from cold temperatures, yellow sugarcane aphids, and greenbugs are further weakening stands in some fields.

The yellow sugarcane aphid, not normally around in numbers requiring control; is a serious threat to young sorghum stands. Damage is the same as that inflicted by the greenbug and the sugarcane aphid is somewhat harder to kill.

Materials recommended for control are Parthoion and Systox and these materials are not available. Good control has been achieved by several producers with Cygon.

A good hard rain would probably alleivate this problem, but until we get a good rain, these aphids will undoubtedly be on the increase.

Be Careful With Herbacides

Pasture weed control time is here as soon as things warm up a little. Herbacides are an effective tool in pasture management; but a few precautions when spraying will keep you and your neighbors on good terms.

Every year there are problems with damaged gardens, trees, and truck crops; and when you are talking about truck crops, damage can be especially severe and expensive.

Anyone spraying pastures with hormone type herbacides is required to obtain a permit through the Texas Department of Agriculture. This permit is granted with the stipulation s that the operator follow guidelines on distances from susceptable crops, wind velocity, wind direction, and nozzle pressure.

It is possible to get rid of your weeds and keep your good neighbors if you will work at it a little.

The Huron Indians had men who preached to fish and persuaded them to come and be caught.

Special Program Helps Rural Community Develop

Small rural communities in this state are continuing to grow and develop due to efforts of the Texas Community Improvement Program.

The TCIP has been conducted for more than 20 years by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the investor-owned electric utility companies of the state.

The program is designed to boost rural communities of 1,000 people or less by helping these communities to organize and to lend a hand to community leaders so they can "help themselves," points out Garland Marshall, community improvement specialist for the Extension Service.

In 1974, more than 600 communities out of a possible 3,600 had some type of organization for community improvement, according to Marshall. Community center buildings for community meetings numbered 983, an increase of 11 from 1973.

Leader training is one of the key areas of the program, and during the past year a total of 3,335 leaders recieved training in various types of community organization. This was an increase of almost 300 from the previous year.

The total number of counties with a countywide organization for community improvement numbered 65 in 1974, almost double the number in 1973, notes the Texas A&M specialist.

The Northeast area of Texas had 120 organized rural communities with a population of 1,000 or less. East Texas boasted the next largest number of organized communities, with North Central and Central Texas also having a large number of communities with an active improvement program.

"The main incentive for these communities is to grow and develop within themselves so they will be a better place in which to live," points out Marshall. "Through organized action. many have taken positive action to overcome certain adverse situations. Water systems have been installed, sanitary landfills have been developed, certain health problems have been overcome and other areas of concern have been corrected."

In addition to these positive attributes as a result of community action, the TCIP alsooffers numerous cash awards sponsored by the utility companies for those communities that make the biggest strides each year. Cash awards will total $7,375 this year, with the top community in the state winning $850 for the furthering of its program.

According to Marshall, 197 communities are officially enrolled in the TCIP this year and will compete for cash awards. Communities will be judged on a district and regional basis, and four finalists will be selected for state judging in late May.

Extension Role Expands

County agents and home economists employed by USDA's extension service no longer focus their attention on rural areas only. They now work through offices located in almost every city in the nation, teaching urban horticulture, land use, sewing, nutrition, and other subjects.

Spuds To The Rescue

In a new approach to nonchemical weed control, researchers are exploring the natural ability of potatoes to crowd out pesky weeds.

State Milk Marketing Discussed

The matterof a state milk marketing order is under discussion in Texas, and deserves study on the part of producers and consumers, says Dr. Randall Stelly, economist in dairy marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Probably, neither federal or state orders can do much regarding the long run forces of supply and demand. Under individual handler pool arrangements of marketing, however, supply has been kept more in line with demand than it has under marketwide pools," Stelly emphasizes.

Purpose of any milk order is to provide for orderly marketing, he adds. "The ability of orders to do the job will depend on the good judgement of all parties in guiding decision that evolve from the hearing process."

Economic regulation of the milk industry began on a large scale during the middle 1930s.

How High The Hog... New Grading Changes... Chickens, Eggs, Turkeys.

While hog production in Texas and the nation goes down, the price outlook for hog producers is going up. At the national pork congress meeting in the midwest a few weeks ago, some of the more optimistic producers were talking about $50 hogs by summer; others were talking in the range of $42 to $45 range.

In comparison with the rest of agriculture, it does appear that the outlook for hogs is brightest. All of the discussions about the hog outlook may bring on an inrush of the "in-and-out" hog producer. He jumps in the market when it is good; when it goes bad, he gets out.

Meanwhile, the number of hogs and pigs on Texas farms as of March 1 is the smallest since 1966. They number 800,000. The current inventory is 18 per cent below a year earlier. Hogs and pigs kept for breeding are estimated at 120,000, 10 per cent below a year ago.

In Texas, hog producers intend to farrow 40,000 sows from now through May. This is down 20 per cent from a year ago.

Nationwide, hog and pig numbers are down 17 per cent from a year ago and 15 per cent from two years ago. Intentions to farrow are down 17 per cent from the June-August period 1974 and are down 20 per cent from two years ago.

The hog industry is gearing promotion programs to get more people to eat pork. Consumption of pork during the past two years has about stabilized.

BEEF GRADING changes go into effect April 14. Basically, they are designed to give the consumer more lean and the producer less cost in this production of beef.

About 4,500 comments from individuals and organizations were received by the U.S. Department of Agriculture relating to the proposed changes. After studying all of them, USDA decided to put its changes into effect without any modification.

Most livestock organizations approved the proposed changes, although some did want specific changes made. Federal and state meat specialists contend that the new changes will result in benefits for both consumers and producers.

POULTRY PRODUCERS in Texas have increased egg-type chicks, but have reduced broiler chicks and turkey poults, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes.

Egg-type hatch of chicks is up 19 per cent from last year. Broiler chick hatch is down 11 per cent from a year ago. Turkey poult hatch is down four per cent.

Egg production is down five per cent from last year and eight per cent from a month ago. Layers on hand were down 13 per cent from a year earlier but were one per cent above February of last year.

CATTLE, HOG, AND LAMB sales were down in Texas during February. There were 335,000 cattle and calves marketed through auctions which is 21 per cent below a year ago and 31 per cent below a month ago.

February sales of hogs were down two per cent from a year ago and 15 per cent under a month ago.

Sheep and lamb sales totaled 36,000 compared with 57,000 a year ago and 52,000 a month ago.

Sales of goats in Texas were down 17 per cent below a year ago and nine per cent from a month ago.

Brucellosis Proposals

Charles W. Ellison, Independent Cattlemen's Association spokesman for Milam County, offered cattlemen a look at a set of recommendations before the Texas Animal Health Commisstion which he says "could spell disaster for the cattle industry."

The suggestions are a proposed strengthening of the brucellosis program and include:

1. Test all eligible cattle at the first point of concentration
2. All quarantines would be for 120 days.
3. Extend the quarantine to include all of a man's herd, rather than just the pasture where the reactor was found.
4. Extend the quarantine to all adjacent pastures where the reactor was found.
5. Place a fire brand of "S" on exposed cattle.

Ellison said the proposals will be taken into consideration at the next Texas Animal Health Commission meeting. Persons wishing to express their opinion of these proposals should contact the commission at 1020 SamHouston Building, Austin

EXOTIC — opposite of indigenous, plants being grown in areas where they were not previously found. Most crops in the United States are exotic.

FORAGE — fresh or preserved plant material used as feed for animals.

SILAGE — forage preserved by partial fermentation. Usually in a container such as a silo.

HAYLAGE — dry silage.

SOILAGE — sometimes called "green chop", it is a crop grown and then fed to animals immediately after harvesting.

Rugged riding mower for your lawn.

The value is in the way Massey builds it.

Take a look at durability, in the new riding mowers from Massey-Ferguson. Heavy gauge steel fenders and body panels... electro-welded unitized frame... forged steel front axles... all the features you want in the machine you put your money on.

And Massey designs for safety, too. Engine can't be started unless brake is locked and mower clutch is in "OFF" position. Additional safety switch prevents operation when operator is not on the seat. Mower discharge chute has deflector for ground debris.

For year round versatility, you'll want the optional snow blade, grass/leaf catcher, and dump cart.

FB Head Asks Tax Exemption

H. M. Yager of Cameron, president of the Milam County Farm Bureau, has requested Congressman W. R. Poage to introduce legislation in the U. S. Congress to increase federal estate tax exemptions.p

H.R. 1793, a bill which would accomplish this, has been introduced by Texas Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson. A number of other Congressmen have introduced bills similar to, or identical to, the Burleson bill.

Yager said in a letter to the Congressman that the federal estate tax has now become an unreasonable burden on those who wish to keep the family farm or ranch in the family.

He noted that back in 1942, when the $60,000 estate tax exemption was adopted farm and ranch values were so low that not many people had to worry about the tax problem. Today, because of infation and assessments based on subdivision or other development potential, even an average-size farm or ranch may have an assessed value of several thousand dollars, he said.

The County Farm Bureau leader said H.R. 1793 would:

1. Increase the present $60,000 primary exemption to $200,000.

2. Raise the marital deduction from 50 percent of the adjusted gross estate to $100,000 plus 50 percent of the total value of the adjusted gross estate.

3. Establish a procedure whereby farm estates could elect to be assessed at their value for farming purposes rather than at fair market value.

JCPenney Offers High School Music

Area high schools have been invited to accept JCPenney's 200th birthday gift to the nation, "The Bicentennial Musical Celebration," which was announced last December.

Order forms have been mailed to more than 30,000 high schools, colleges, and universities in the first phase of what is expected to be a massive distribution process lasting through April and May. The unique "Gift of Music" includes 100 minutes of sheet music for bands, orchestras, and choral groups. One package of the music arranged for all instruments and voices will weigh approximately 45 pounds.

Dan Long, manager of the Penney store in Cameron, said that the "Celebration" music package will consist of 70 minutes of historic works dating from William Billings' "America" written in 1770 and 30 minutes of newly commissioned works by 5 prominent American composers.

Any high school which has not received an order form may request one from its local or nearby JCPenney store or from Micheal Scotto, National Bicentennial Coordinator, JCPenney, 1301 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Tickets For Aggie Muster On Sale

Tickets for the April 21 Texas Aggie Muster have gone on sale throughout Milam County, according to Bill Henry, 1974-75 Milam County Texas A&M University Former Students Association president.

The Muster, a time to honor the passing of comrades, will be held on Texas Independence Day at the Milano High School cafeteria beginning at 7:30 p.m. with B. J. Adams, assistant dean and director, executive development programs, college of business administration, giving the keynote address.

Ticket chairman and 1974-75 vice-president Sam White of Cameron said all A&M graduates should be contacted to purchase tickets. If you haven't been, however, the following are selling tickets in your area: Newton Butts, Thorndale; Shelby Smith, Milano; Albert Timmerman, Bill Saage, Jimmy Carter, and Henry, Rockdale; White, Jack Tumlinson, J. D. Moore, Monroe Fuchs, and Bill McCutchen, Cameron; and Stanley Glaser, Buckholts. Tickets are $4 per person.

The Aggie Muster dates back to 1903, and has been annually since that time, Henry said. More than 350 Musters will be held around the world this year--wherever Texas A&M Former Students live or work.

During the wars, Aggies have mustered in foxholes, on the battlefield, about ships, in airplanes, and in medical hospitals. During World War II, Aggies mustered on Corregidor shortly before the Japanese captured the island, Henry added.

This year, Musters are scheduled at every major military base in the world. The ceremony is the same at every location. Aggies pay their respects to those who are absent. When the names of the honored dead are called from the Muster Roll, a friend of the deceased answers, "Here."

Ladies Set Spring Festival

Rebecca Riola, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riola of Cameron placed first in the senior breads and desserts catagory and qualified for State competition at State 4-H Roundup at College Station. Rebecca will represent district 10 at this activity on June 2-5.

She made Cheryl's Oatmeal Bread and overcame some very stiff competition to recieve this honor. There were approximately 12 other entries in this class. Rebecca received a blue ribbon as well as a silver bowl from Morrison Hilling Company of Denton. Sheis a member of the Cameron 4-H Club and ha s worked with food project groups for four years.

Lorna Biar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Biar of Thorndale placed third in the senior snacks and beverages division. Lorna made a rather unusual dish, Cottonseed Flour Chocolate Chip Cookies. They are delicious and utilize one of the major agricultural projects of Milam County. Lorna had some very stiff competition and we are very proud of her. She is a member of the Thorndale 4-H Club and has served as a food junior leader.

In the junior snacks and beverages division, Petrice Biehle of the Milam County 4-H Horse Club exhibited Honey Balls. Petrice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Biehle of Rockdale. Petrice is 10 years old and this is her first year to enter the food show, and she did an outstanding job of representing Milam County.

Chicken Chili was the name of Leslie Sheguit's dish. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sheguit of Camero and a member of the Cameron 4-H Club. Leslie is a third year member of the Cameron club and has carried foods and clothing as her major projects.

Mary Lee Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy C. Graham of Thorndale served as mistress of ceremonies and helped with the presentation of ribbons and awards. Mary Lee is the District 10 4-H Council Chairman for 1975. She is a member of the Thonrdale 4-H Club and did an excellent job in presiding and presenting the awards.

Temple is one of four communities selected to participate in this experimental film program developed by the National Project Center for Film and the Humanities. Designed for general adult public audiences, this program's goal is to bridge the ever-widening gap between the humanities and the realities of life in the contemporary society.

"The Trial of Socrates" and "The Challenge of Reason-Galileo" will be shown at the first session on April 14 and both films dramatize conflicts between the individual mind and different "establishments" which profoundly affected our western heritage. Supplementary guides to the films are available in advance of the film showing. Those interested in the program may call Dr. Stephanie T. Lieberman, the local Community Program Chairman, at 773-2555, or the Cultural Activities Center at 778-8722. There is no admission charge.

Smitherman Tabs Win

Yoe Drops Hearne Eagles, 5-3

The Cameron Yoemen dropped the Hearne Eagles 5-3 in District 23AA play Friday night. Jeff Smitherman took command of the mound to guide the Yoemen from a 3-0 deficit to the district win. From the mound Smitherman overpowered the Eagles and held them hitless for six and one-third innings to edge out the 2nd district win.

In the opening inning the Eagles connected for 3 runs on 3 hits, before Smitherman replaced sophomore Gerry Heitman.

The Eagles runs came when Scott Sigle took a base on balls and was given passage to 2nd base via a sacrifice by Don Hill. Melvin Bates unraveled the leather when he placed the hardball over the 310 foot mark in right field for a 2 run homer.

David DeStefano singled to 1st base and gained free passage to 2nd on a wild pitch by Heitman. Bruce Henry went to the batters box to add an RBI to his listings when he popped a hard hit single to right field.

Coach Forsythe called for the timeout to replace the sophomore with senior Jeff Smitherman, who in turn ended the inning when Daniel DeStanfano flied out to center field.

In the opening of the bottom half of the 2nd inning, Jeff Smitherman walked to 1st base. Ricky Kelley, with a sacrifice in mind, bunted to the mound and on a try for Smitherman, Anderson threw the ball into center field. Smitherman, taking advantage of the fielders choice, crossed home plate for the first Yoeman score. Ricky Kelley was signaled safe at 3rd base.

Gary Hornung stepped to the plate and sacrificed Kelley home to draw the Yoemen one closer to the Eagles.

Defensive ball allowed the Yoemen to keep the Eagles from scoring and in the 3rd the Yoemen gained scoring ground.

The Yoemen tallied inthe 3rd as Gene Kopriva took a base on balls. Randy Sapp sacrificed Kopriva to 2nd followed by a single by Joe Smitherman.

The winning run came in the 6th. Jeff Smitherman went to 1st on an error by the center fielder. Ricky Kelley took 1st on a ball 4 call, followed by a perfect bunt by Gary Hornung to fill the bases.

Joey Mondrik knotched the vitory with a bomb to center field to score Smitherman from 3rd.

The Yoemen are now 2-0 in district play, and 12-4 for the season. The Eagles dropped to 1-1 in the district race while marking a 10-2 for the year.

Murray-Go-Round

By Tom Murray

QUICKIES:

Recently Houston U. Football Coach BILL YEOMAN told a Houston radio interviewer he never recommends a Southwest Conference player for All-America, since he never sees 'em play. . .An un-named SMU Linebacker: "Suprisingly the easiest offenses to read are those of i Oklahoma and Texas because you know where the play is goin.". . .That statement was made before Darrell Royal hired Florida's DON BREAUX as his new backfield coach. Now Texas runs out of a cross between the Winged-T and the Wishbone. Would you, then, call it the Wingbone?

San Diego NFL Coach TOMMY PROTHRO: "When I say I am looking for offensive balance, I don't mean the number of yards passing or running in a game, but the ability to do both. It doesn't make any difference if you make all you yards passing or running as long as the threat of both is there."

UT's Royal, that old country boy from Hollis, Oklahoma, remains good fo a colorful quote. Reminded that his 1974 Longhorn football team was hardly a good advertisement for his program, he retorted: "I don't feel real confident right now, but I've seen sinker dogs get well."

Sports Spotlight

By Forrest Guess

Yoe athletics start earlier than in the seventh grade, as was proved Friday afternoon when over 400 young Yoemen converged on Yoe Field.

The event was the Ada Henderson Inter-School Track Meet. What a group of young, eager-beavers that are truely the composition o tommorrow's Yoemen.

The motivation towards athletics and an interest in the true meaning of athletics can be formulated in this group of youngsters. The activities can be directed to involve each of the youngsters and to help them secure an active roll in a total athletic program.

The program should range from football to soccer and include all the fundamental athletic activities.

Max Shumate was the director of the inter-school track meet and what a job to coordinate all the activites, and numbers of participants. It was a monumental task to involve all the youngsters, but I felt the events were run to perfection. It must be said that it was a job well done.

***** *****

Turning to the baseball scene, Coach Jon Forsythe has the following comments about the Yoemen's performance.

"I was very suprised, coming back from a 3-0 deficit against Hearne. I must say, I was very pleased. But also I would say we can't ever fall behind like we did and expect towin."

"Hearne is an extremely tough ball club and the victory was certainly a great one to have under your hat. We had real good hitting and I felt that our defense was as tough as it has been all season. We had real effort out of our pitcher, Jeff Smitherman and catcher Gene Kopriva."

"To come on the mound with a three point deficit is a hard task, and I think Jeff pitched as well as he has all year. If we can play like this all season I think we have a real good chance of winning it."

I asked the coach how the district was shaping up after the opening game and he offered these comments: "First of all, I would rather be playing the the 3Adistrict that we had last season. All the teams in our district are real competitors and it will be tough for one team to go through the season undefeated. All the teams in the district are real explosive and the field is open for a district winner."

***** *****

The girls district track meet, both high school and junior high will be held this Friday at the Austin Westlake track. This is the first time the Yoe girls have had an opportunity to participate in the track program and the Yoe girls, under the direction of Coach Pat Short, should fair well in their first outing.

Guadalupe River Trout Fishing Up

Since November 1974 the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has stocked some 25,000 rainbow trout in the tailrace waters of the Guadalupe River below Canyon Dam and now is the time to catch a limit of the 12-to 14-inch fish.

According to Bob Bounds, TP&WD statwide trout project leader, the U. S. Corps of Engineers has been releasing large amounts of water from Canyon Reservoir which prevented fishermen from taking many trout downstream.

"Releases of water have eased," said Bounds, "and fishermen can safely wade into the Guadalupe River just below the dam and have no trouble catching trout."

Jut to prove it could be done, Bounds and David Pritchard, director of the departoent's inland fisheries mangement, cast everything they had in their tackle boxes and brought up trout every time.

"Pritchard had good luch with a one-inch, bronze-colored spinner with a black and white bucktail and a treble hook," said Bounds. "He fished the lure on ultra-light tackle with four-to-six-pound line."

Quite A Girl!

Aunt Sara looks about as stern as they come, doesn't she? As they used to say, "butter wouldn't melt in her mouth." I don't remember the occasion of this picture, since I was the baby. But I do remember Great Aunt Sara very vividly and she was quite a girl!

She was what they call a "pillar of the church." She must have baked an astronomical number of chicken pies for church suppers and served on almost every committee at one time or another. You might say she was pious, a word we don't usually care for. What I mean is that she revered her God and loved Him.

She also had a tremendous sense of humor. I remember she used to tell the funniest stories.

The point is this. So often people mistake religious fervor for a certain "holier than thou" attitude. They don't believe that humor and religion go together. But Aunt Sara proved them wrong. The Church encompasses all of life—humor and wit—as well as love and compassion . . . and so much more! You can easily find out for yourself.

Texas Led Nation In Tornadoes

Texas had the dubious honor of leading the nation in the number of tornadoes last year with 116. And another tornado season is at hand.

"Most tornadoes occur during April, May, and June during the late afternoon although they can occur at any time of the year or any time of the day," points out Wayne Keese, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Most tornadoes occur in the South and between the Rockies and the Appalachians.

"With a total of 944 reported tornadoes in the United States last year and 361 resulting deaths, 1974 was the worst tornado year since 1925," points out the Texas A&M specialist.

Although the average annual number of tornadoes reported has quadrupled in the past three decades, the number of tornado fatalities has been decreasing. This is probably due to better methods of sighting tornadoes, warning systems, and advance preparation for tornadoes, notes Keese.

Tornadoes usually travel southwest to northeast and stay on the ground about 10 minutes. Their forward speed is about 30 miles per hour but wind sppeds in the funnel of a tornado get up to 300 miles per hour.

"Because tornadoes are so erratic, it's hard to tell just where or when they will occur," points out the engineer.

He stresses the importance of having a well rehearsed plan for quick action if a tornado is sighted.

The National Weather Service issues a "tornado watch" when atmospheric conditions are favorable for tornadoes. A "tornado warning" is issued when a tornado has actually been sighted or detected by radar.

"If a tornado watch is announced, stay tuned to a radio or television for weather advisories. A tornado warning demands action, so you should move quickly to a basement, cellar, or civil defense shelter," advises Keese. "Keep a battery-powered radio handy in case power is lost."

If your home doesn't have a basement or cellar, go to the lowest level in the center of the home or get in a closet or small room or under heavy furniture suggests the engineer. Open a few windows to allow for sudden air pressure changes.

"Stay away from windows and buildings such as gymnasiums and audtioriums with wide free-span roofs. If you live in a mobile home, move to a shelter area. If you are caught in open country, move away from the tornado at a right angle to its path or lie flat in a ditch or ravine," he adds. "Do not stay in your car if you cannot safely evade the tornado by driving away from it or at right angles to its path."

If you sight a tornado, report it promptly to the nearest law enforcement officer-but do not tie up the phone with unnecessary calls.

"After a tornadoe, always wear thick-soled shoes and gloves in cleanup work and watch for broken gas pipes and downed electrical wire," warns Keese, "Don't light matches or smoke in or near a building that has been hit by a tornado until you are sure there are no gas leaks.

"Furthermore, stay away from disaster areas unless you're helping with rescue and cleanup operations."

Official Hiway Map Available

A dramatic new section of Interstate Highway 10 as it traverses the scenic Hill Country near Kerrville graces the cover of the 1975 Official State Highway Travel Map, now being distributed.

The Texas Highway Department expects demand for the updated 1975 map will exceed one million copies. "Ounce for ounce," Tom H. Taylor, director of the department's Travel and Information Division said, "the highway Travel Map is the best friend a Texas motorist can have."

The new map shows recently opened sections of the Interstate and other highways maintained by the Texas Highway Department. Motorists will find symbols which identify safety rest areas, and distincitive symbols for those with comfort station, including several completed during the past year.

Thirteen special insets on the reverse side of the map chart major urban freeways and arterial streets through the state's business metropolitian areas.

Copies of the 1975 Official Highway Travel Map are available from Highway Department tourist information bureaus, from Highway Department district offices throughout the state and by mail. Requests should e sent to:

WHY IS IT?

A man wakes up in the morning after sleeping on an advertised mattress, under an advertised blanket, in advertised pajamas.

He will bathe in an advertised tub, wash with advertised soap, shave with an advertised razor, drink advertised coffee after his advertised juice, cereal and toast (toasted in his advertised toaster), put on advertised clothes and an advertised hat.

He will ride to work in an advertised car, sit at an advertised desk, smoke advertised cigarettes and write with an advertised pen.

Yet this man hesitates to advertise, saying that advertising does not pay. Finally, when his unadvertised business goes under, he will then advertise it for sale!

The No-Work (Almost) Orange

If you use your head, you can create a delightful dessert that can be made ahead, is chock full of vitamin C and is easy as A B C to create, as is this elegant orange arrangement.

ORANGE RUM CUP

8 seedless oranges
1/4 cup confectioners' sugar
1/2 cup light rum

Peel oranges, removing all the white underskin and cut them into 1/4 inch crosswise slices. Arrange in a glass serving bowl and sprinkle with confectioners' sugar. Add rum; chill thoroughly. Makes 8 servings.

This cool dessert should receive a really warm reception, whenever you arrange to serve it.
